EXPERT TRAINING TO SIMPLIFY HAZMAT COMPLIANCE
Keep your hazardous materials moving safely, sharpen your skill set, and learn new and changing regulations you must know. Up-to-date hazmat training is critical to avoid rejected shipments, supply chain disruption, and DOT penalties now as high as $81,993 per day, per violation.

BUILD THE SKILLS YOU NEED TO:
- Apply the latest 49 CFR, IATA, and IMDG rules to your shipments
- Identify the new 2020 hazmat regs that impact your operations
- Properly package, mark, and label hazmat for ground, air, or vessel transport
- Sign hazmat shipping papers and other documentation
- Recognize and address hazmat security threats and emergencies
- Supervise, protect, and train new hazmat employees

We build in time for you to ask questions, get answers, and network with other shippers who know the challenges you face. Plus, earn CEUs and credit toward IHMM, ABIH, NEHA, and REHS credentials.

WHO NEEDS TRAINING?
US DOT requires training once every three years (49 CFR 172.704) for “hazmat employees” who:
- Read or interpret hazmat regulations
- Classify hazardous materials
- Select a proper shipping name
- Package, mark, label, load, or unload hazardous materials
